TEACHERS:

Miss Kate A. Sill. the first Principal, returned and resumed her position at the beginning of the last term, to the areat satisfaction of every scholar, and friend or the School. Mrs. L. B. Graham has also returned, and with Miss Sill will hereafter be identified with the School. Miss Eva Quaifie, the teacher of music, is too well and favorably known to need any commendation from us. In addition to these the Rev. N. R. Jenvey, Miss Julia S. Woodruff, and Miss Jane Briscor, three horoughly competent teachers have been employed during the past term. Addition to the staff of teachers will be made whenever the wants of the School may require it; but with thirty-five scholars, the number in attendance during the last term, six teachers are amply sufficient to do full justice to every scholar. The most prominent feature which has been developed by the market since last report is the break in Belcher. It shows characteristics of a well-managed raid, which has in turn excited some thing of the panic usually attendant on such movements. The mine cannot be held responsible for the crash. The lode has improved considerably in appearance since last report. Sierra Nevada's second crossent, 100 feet north of that on the 2300 level, which gave 12 feet of ore, has disclosed 70 feet of excellent promise, in which are three veins of good milling ore, one five feet in width Fifteen feet of clay have since been penetrated, and no one knows yet what lies beyond that or whether the full width of the voin with its breadths or ore has been opened up or not. THE CHINESE MIGRATION RASTWARD—SET-TLING AT VARIOUS TOWNS ON THE BOUTE TO NEW YORK. I Tew York Herald 1

The army of Chinamen who have turned their faces eastward from Califorms are beginning to scatter through Pennsylvania. Ohio and New York The managers of the Pennsyl-States vanua and Eric railways state that large numbers are transported from the Wast daily, but for some reason or other a great percentage are going to various large towns and cities along the route The majority are bound to New York on account of the dislike of the Chinese to faim labor. The agents of the Union Pacific Rhiway recoive large sums of money from day to day which are paid by New York Chinamen to afford a means of transportation for their friends from San Frencisco. Americas . . . owing Trade with 43 13 7

A Shanghai correspondent of the London Times, reviewing the China market and the prospects of trade, says Except in a season of abnormal depression in America, it is unlikely that the United States will for many a long day be a serious competitor with England in Asiatic or any other foreign market for piece goods. The carrying trade of China tends to pass more and more into English hands, and in the immediate future it is likely that the whole of river navigation along the Yangtze, betwoen Shanghar and other points, will pass under the British flag The pass under the British flag Clyde-built iron river steamers which replaced the old American wooden ones have proved during the last few years a great success From the coasting as well as the river carrying trade of China the American flag has departed, the only American steamers left being two or three men-of-war that are too unseaworthy to sail home The German interest both on shore and at sea steadily declines, and we English are left to share the trade—a most profitable one at all times—with the Chinese.

The sentiments of the Gold Hill News on the delegate question is thus expressed

The delegates to Chicago should go perfectly unpledged, yet understinding well the sense of the Convention and the general wish and preference of the Republicans of Nevada Select the best soundest-headed men in the State and send them unpledged for Giant or Blaine, for if Washburne should happen to be nominated, our Nevada delegation should be allowed the privilege participating in the nomination should they deem it advisable

$1,000 Reward.

On the 18th day of January last, now nearly sixty days ago, three ruffians, armed with iron bars and an ice pick, made a fiendish attempt to assassinate my brother, Thomas L. Clarke. He had done them ue personal injury; he was guilty of no offense against the law, or against society, unless it be offense for an American citizen to assert the independence of labor; the freedom | 29 F SPREER, WASHINGTON, D C. of private contract, and the right to live by honest toil, for honest wages, without dictation from organized lawlessness. It was in broad daylight, on a public street of Virginia City, that the diabolical assault was made. It is unaccountable that such a crime, committed under such circumstances, could so long escape detection. I had hoped so abhorrent a deed, so flagitous and dangerous a stab at personal liberty, would arouse the popular indignation, quicken official zeal, and speedity bring the guilty to justice. So far this hope is without fruition. The assassins are still at large. For their detection and conviction, solely that the law may be vindicated, and so beinous a crime not be perperrated with impunity, I now offer one thousand dollars reward, payable $3331/2 upon the delivery of each to the Warden of the Penitentiary at Carson. I also offer a like sum for the conviction of any and all accessories

N PRESENTING THE ABOVE NAME TO

the people of this city and adjacent counties, we desire to explain fully the motives and objects of our bunness; the manner and style in which we intend doing business, and why it is to the interact of the public to support the views we take Our business transactions will all be based on

STRICT CASH PAYMENT PLAN By this we mean that purchases must be ac-companied by Cash, and

UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES

WILL ANY GOODS BE CHARGED.

Our motives for thus doing might, if not explained, seem exacting; but—one moment—and we shall ask you, "How do you expect to buy at low rates, and pay for the following extras—which, mind you, must and is always added to the goods you buy?"

The following stems we save, not for our selves, but for the patrons of our house:

First—We save the cost of a Book-keeper and Collecter. Second-By avoiding the losses occasioned by non paying customers.

Third—By saving the interest at 1 per cent per month on $8,000, invested in book accounts Fourth-By saving any emissions in charging for goods that would be sold on credit.

Fifth—By always having the cash in the drawer or the goods on the shelf, thereby saving the expense of paying for goods before the book accounts could be collected.

Sixth—And most important, by the reduction in prices of goods we buy, for where we have the randy cash to pay down for any article we desire, we can always buy goods at a reduced price, and naturally can afford to rell cheaper, and yet have as much profit; for when buying on time, and paying in three or four months thereafter, a merchant certainly pays a higher price for his goods than one who has the ready cash to pay immediately. And it evidently allows, and is, an indisputable fact, that any house doing a credit business cannot sell at as low a price of one doing a Strict Cash Business.

These theories demonstrate and convince Scepticism riself, and are as solid as an ocean

Many an experienced eye will scan these lines knowing full well these living truths, which cannot be disputed.

It is our intention to place the different lines of merchandise we carry within the reach of legitimate traders, and at such
